11-12 May 2015, Luxembourg.

As part of the Social Value of Materials (SOVAMAT) initiative (www.sovamat.org), SAM conferences address the issues of sustainability assessment of processes and products in order to foster interaction of soft and hard sciences, by bringing together an interdisciplinary research community to discuss new metrics developments extending beyond common LCA and strategies of sustainable development.

In order to register, please fill in the registration form which will be shortly made available online on www.sovamat.org.
